Work Experience

Frontend-Developer

MMSIT, Yangon 2023 Jan- 2023 Jun

I work as a Frontend Developer at MMSIT workshop where our team collaboratively builds web-based point-of-sale (POS) systems. Despite encountering numerous challenges with API calls and UI issues, we persevere through collective efforts, involving frontend, backend, and UI teams. This collaborative environment has not only equipped me with valuable knowledge but also enriched my experiences in backend development and user experience design.

Frontend-Developer

Develop X, Yangon , 2023 September- Present

At Develop, I serve as a senior Frontend Developer. Within the company, I specialize in constructing web views for Android and iOS applications, as well as developing company profiles and movie websites. My role involves close collaboration with Android and iOS developers, collectively tackling challenges related to app development, API integration, and user interface enhancements. Through these experiences, I've gained valuable insights and expertise in mobile development across multiple platforms.
